

Break It Off

to the tune of "Shake it Off" by Taylor Swift

Charoset's oh-so-sweet!
Maror's a bitter treat.
It's on the seder plate (mm-mm).
It's on the seder plate (mm-mm).
Leave Elijah's cup alone.
The egg and the shank bone,
They're on the seder plate (mm-mm).
On the seder plate (mm-mm).

And I'll keep proving,
As I do my Jew thing,
It's like I've got Mitzrayim
In my mind, saying it's gonna be alright.

Middle matzah's gonna break, break, break, break, break,
The gefilte fish will flake, flake, flake, flake, flake,
But you know I won't forsake, sake, sake, sake, sake... any bite, any bite.
The brisket's gonna bake, bake, bake, bake, bake,
And my belly's gonna ache, ache, ache, ache, ache,
But you know I won't forsake, sake, sake, sake, sake... any bite, any bite.

I know why I recline,
And I drink four cups of wine,
On this Jewish holiday (mm-mm).
This Jewish holiday (mm-mm).
The Hagaddah that we read,
The afikomen that we seek,
On this Jewish holiday (mm-mm).
This Jewish holiday (mm-mm).

And I'll keep proving,
As I do my Jew thing,
It's like I've got Mitzrayim
In my mind, saying it's gonna be alright.

Middle matzah's gonna break, break, break, break, break,
The gefilte fish will flake, flake, flake, flake, flake,
But you know I won't forsake, sake, sake, sake, sake... any bite, any bite.
The brisket's gonna bake, bake, bake, bake, bake,
And my belly's gonna ache, ache, ache, ache, ache,
But you know I won't forsake, sake, sake, sake, sake... any bite, any bite.
