

FAQ for 2/14/19

What I wrote:

The first construction trailer has electricity AND a snazzy mailbox! For those of you who are wondering, that mailbox is where our SWPPP (Storm Water Pollution Prevention Plan) lives, so that the inspector can access it at his/her convenience. Also, we welcome Colin Miller, former NFL player, current Superintendent for Scott Long Construction. Colin will be on site from now until the construction is done, and he even has a TRS Welcome Badge with his name on it. Be sure to say hi to him when you next see him – he's hard to miss at 6'3"!

If you have any questions about the building project, feel free to email us at bptf@templerodefshalom.org!

What was published:

TRS warmly welcomes Colin Miller, Superintendent for Scott Long Construction. Colin will be on-site for the duration of construction and he even has a TRS Welcome Badge with his name on it. Be sure to say hi to him when you next see him – a former NFL player, he's hard to miss at 6'3"!

In this photo, Colin is standing next to the new mailbox in our parking lot. For those of you who are wondering, that mailbox is where our SWPPP (Storm Water Pollution Prevention Plan) is stored, so that the inspector can access it at his/her convenience.

If you have any questions about the building project, feel free to email us at bptf@templerodefshalom.org