

FAQ for 6/13/19

In order to have construction, sometimes you need destruction first, and ours has begun! Next time you're in the Social Hall, look toward the wall with the glass plaques. You might notice that the door to that stairwell is gone, and a new wall is in its place. This is a temporary drywall (painted to blend well with our existing structure) that is there to keep us safe while the addition on that side of the building is added. When that addition is complete, the wall will be removed, and there will be beautiful double doors leading to a new terrace! In the meantime, please don't try to exit the Social Hall that way – you won't be able to do so!
