

FAQ for 7/3/19

Wow – the work is really getting going, both on the inside and the outside!

Inside, in preparation for the demolition of one of outside walls, we had some office moves this week that you'll want to know about if you're looking for our staff: Laura Jacobs, Temple Receptionist, is newly positioned immediately to the left, just as you walk into the Grand Foyer. (Check out the new seating area of four sofas to the right – have a seat and relax!) You can find Cookie Mandell, Director of Membership Engagement, where Laura Jacobs used to sit. Looking for Beth Silver, Executive Director? She's now in Hannah Moore's old office, while Hannah, Director of Philanthropy, is in the "pit" (the group of multiple staff desks) behind Laura Rosh, Temple Office Manager.

Outside, we passed the micropile test, which means that the soil is in good shape to support the foundation for the new additions. Phew! As a result, the crew can now drill and set up multiple micropiles, which they began to do on Tuesday. It's thrilling to see the drawings finally coming to life!
