

Weekly Update 9/12/19

We are delighted to be able to share news about two milestones this week. The first is that the construction crew has poured the basement slab for the classroom addition. Check out the picture above, which was taken on Monday. Where the worker in the yellow shirt is standing, rather than gravel, there is now concrete. As our site supervisor said, “We finally have a place to stand on site that is not dirt!” That’s a huge step in our progress!

Furthermore, visible progress has been made on building the Small Sanctuary! In the picture below, you can see both the outline of that addition and where the workers are pouring more concrete. By Erev Rosh Hashanah, the majority of the foundation should be complete. After the many years of dreaming about TRS having a space like this, I’m most excited about watching this part of the construction unfold, aren’t you?

If you have any questions about the building project, feel free to email us at bptf@templerodefshalom.org.
