

Weekly Update 2.27.2020

Some notable progress was made this past week on both additions! For the clergy/classroom addition, framing work continued on all sides of the building, giving us an even better sense of some of the details of the building. In the photo below, you can see where some of the classroom windows will be (on the lower level), you can see the small terrace that will come from the clergy suite on the top floor, and you can see the two walkways (upper and lower) that connect the addition to our school lobby and a future reception area.

I am most excited by seeing the installation of the steel for the small sanctuary roof, as seen in this picture below. We are all familiar with the rendering of this space on our website, but it is simply thrilling to see it coming to life!

As always, please reach out if you have any questions: bptf@templerodefshalom.org.