

11.19.2020 Weekly Update

Reyna Pratt, Chair of the Building Project Task Force, provides our updates as construction progresses.

This week, I'm excited to share an update with you about the Small Sanctuary addition. The construction team has begun to install the wood on the walls, and it looks stunning. Here is a photo of the reception hall, looking north toward the terrace in the back. The construction site is being transformed (and it's not finished yet!) into a warm, light-filled, welcoming space.

Progress has also been made in the Small Sanctuary itself. The picture below shows the beautiful ceiling, both inside and outside the building. You can see one set of the bookshelves and the acoustical panels being installed all around the space. I just can't wait to be sitting in this room, enjoying a service and listening to the beautiful singing of our cantors, and this photo helps me to believe that it actually will happen in the near future!

Meanwhile, the hard work of the Solar Task Force is also coming to fruition. In the picture below, you can see the solar panels that were delivered to the site. This is just a teaser, as there will be more details (and pictures) in the coming weeks, but it is exciting progress!

As always, please reach out if you have any questions: bptf@templerodefshalom.org